

Come to a

Presentation of Biopeople, the Danish national innovation network for health and life sciences,

by Per Spindler, director of Biopeople and hear

why networks matter for innovation

by Christian Waldstrøm,
Associate professor at Aarhus University

Date: 15 November 2011, 15:00-17:00

Venue: INCUBA Science Park - Skejby, Brendstrupgaardsvej 102, 8200 Aarhus

Program:

15.00 Why networks matter for innovation, talk by Christian Waldstrøm
(Associate Professor at Aarhus University)

15.45 Presentation of Biopeople, the Danish national innovation cluster for health and life sciences, and the advantages of participating in an innovation network, by Per Spindler (director for Biopeople)

16.00 Experience with Biopeople, by a member company

16.15 Networking and matchmaking, with sushi and wine

Organizers: INCUBA Science Park - Skejby, Biopeople

Registration: participation is free of charge. Registration is mandatory at <http://www.biopeople.dk/index.php?id=375>